M. & M. ASSOCIATION PROPAGANDA SPREADING

That the opposition to the mail order business by the Manufacturers & Mer-chants' association of Salt Lake City has spread to other localities is evidenced by a letter received Saturday by Lon J. Haddock, secretary of the association, from C. W. Crews, manager the mail order houses of other localities, and he has replied to Mr. Crews that the association of Salt Lake City will support the action of the Pueblo mer-chants in every way possible. The letter says in part: That the trouble must be eradicated by enlisting the public on the side of the local merchants; that it is among he farmers and inhabitants of the out the farmers and inabitants of the out-lying districts that mail order business is most active, and that if the farmers can be shown that by patronizing the outside industries they are destroying the home market for their own products, they will readily stop the practice for their own good. It is also of importance that the clerks inthe large retail stores, where both imported and local products are on sale, should be persuaded to always offer the home product in preference to the outside. In duct in preference to the outside. In this manner, says Mr. Haddock, the public can easily be trained to see the value of encouraging the local dealers.

He is quoted as saying that he is confident Garcia did not say that he fired the fatal shot, but is willing to face a jury again, regardless of what the Mexican-Chinese may have said. "Give me liberty or give me death," is the sentiment of his appeal.

Sullivan especially desires a change of venue from Salt Lake county if he obtains a new trial. He apparently has little hope of a favorable result in the event of a retrial here, on account of the bias and prejudice he believes exists against him here, but seems to find solace and cheer in the possibility of a venue of his case to an outside county, where such strong prejudice as he claims to find here, does not exist.

Definite word is expected from Sheriff Emery today as to Garcia's condition and the probable time at which he will start for Salt Lake City with the notorious prisoner.
